PRICE GOUGING IS ILLEGAL

New Jersey price gouging law took effect on March 9, 2020 when Governor Phil Murphy declared a State of Emergency in response to the COVID-19 outbreak. This law prohibits excessive price increases during a declared state of emergency, or for 30 days after the termination of the state of emergency.

Excessive price increases are defined as price increases more than 10 percent higher than the price at which merchandise was sold during the normal course of business prior to the state of emergency.

Consumers who believe price gouging is occurring are encouraged to file complaints using the following contact information.
